What is a Drive-Up Distribution?

These events provide individuals and families with at least 50 pounds of food in one or more pre-packed boxes. Food is loaded into your trunk or vehicle once you come through the distribution line.

What is the process for making a reservation?

There is no required proof of eligibility and anyone is eligible for food. Your information will only be used to provide you food and help us improve your service. This information is subject to change.

How do I make a reservation?

Go to pittsburghfoodbank.org/drive-up or call 412-460-3663 ext. 655. Reservations open four weeks before each event and close at 5 p.m. the day before the distribution. Making a reservation. A limited number of extra food shares will be available for those on a first-come, first-served basis. A reservation is the only way to guarantee you will receive food.

Are walk-ups permitted?

For the safety of those at the event, walk-ups are not permitted at drive-up distributions. If you do not have a vehicle, you may have another individual drive you to pick up food.

Where are the events held?

See reverse for the full list of locations and dates. Most sites are served once per month.

Each household must complete a reservation to receive food. The same car and license plate can be used up to three times for the same event. There are no exceptions to one reservation getting one share of food. For one car to get two or three shares of food, the car must have more than one family or household.

What are the rules for attending?

Individuals attending the distribution must stay in their vehicles at all times. This will help us maintain six-foot social distancing. Leaving cars to socialize is prohibited.

After pulling into 'distribution row', put your vehicle in park and unlock your trunk or backseat for food to be loaded. Volunteers will not load food into vehicles until they are in park.
