Food Bank provides 37,000+ neighbors with Thanksgiving meals

PITTSBURGH, PA (November 28, 2023) - As many gathered around the dinner table, Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank (The Food Bank) completed its yearly effort to provide Thanksgiving meals to families all across southwestern Pennsylvania.

This year the Food Bank distributed:

3,200 + turkeys and fixin's such as produce, dairy and other holiday staples

34,500 + gift cards for turkeys

"Preparing for Thanksgiving has been especially tough for our neighbors this year, with record inflation pushing families to make impossible choices to keep enough food on the table let alone a big holiday meal. Once again our community has stepped up in a big way to take the pressure off by providing families with the pieces needed for a Thanksgiving meal," said Director of Partner Network and Distribution Programs Erin Kelly.

While Thanksgiving is behind us, many holidays and long winter months are still on the horizon. The Food Bank will continue to help the community. To give help or find food near you, visit pittsburghfoodbank.org.
